

About this Privacy Policy

Safety Barriers WA Pty Ltd (ABN 47 139 734 713), trading as Safety Barriers WA, is committed to respecting your right to privacy and protecting your personal information.

We are bound by the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) and the Australian Privacy Principles contained in that Act. The Australian Privacy Principles set out the way in which organisations can collect, use, keep secure and disclose Personal Information. It also gives individuals the right to know what information an organisation holds about them and the right to correct that information if it is wrong. Further information on the Australian Privacy law is available from the Office of the Australian Information Commissioner (www.oaic.gov.au).

We will ensure that all officers, employees and subcontractors are aware of and understand Safety Barriers WA's obligations as well as their own obligations under the Act. We will achieve this through the provision of training and through maintaining and implementing internal policies and procedures to prevent personal information from being collected, used, disclosed, retained, accessed or disposed of improperly.

This Policy applies to all your dealings with us, whether in person, or via telephone, email, correspondence or our website.

The purpose of this Policy is to:

- Give you a better and more complete understanding of the kinds of personal information we collect and hold;
- Clearly and concisely communicate how and when we collect, disclose, use, store and otherwise handle personal information;
- Inform you about the purposes for which we collect, hold, use and disclose personal information;
- Provide you with information about how you may access your personal information, and seek correction of your personal information;
- Provide you with information about how you may make a complaint, and how we will deal with any such complaint;
- Advise you of the circumstances in which we are likely to disclose personal information to overseas recipients; and
- Enhance the transparency of our operations.

For the purpose of this Policy, the following terms will have the following meanings, as attributed to them by section 6 of the Act:

Personal information means information or an opinion about an identified individual, or an individual who is reasonably identifiable, whether the information or opinion is true or not, and whether the information or opinion is recorded in a material form or not.

Sensitive information means:

- (a) Information or an opinion about an individual's:
- (i) Racial or ethnic origin; or
 - (ii) Political opinions; or
 - (iii) Membership of a political association; or
 - (iv) Religious beliefs or affiliations; or

- (v) Philosophical beliefs; or
- (vi) Membership of a professional or trade association; or
- (vii) Membership of a trade union; or
- (viii) Sexual orientation or practices; or
- (ix) Criminal record

that is also personal information; or

- (b) Health information about an individual; or
- (c) Genetic information about an individual that is not otherwise health information; or
- (d) Biometric information that is to be used for the purpose of automated biometric verification or biometric identification; or
- (e) Biometric templates.

Health information means:

- (a) Information or an opinion about:
 - (i) The health or disability (at any time) of an individual; or
 - (ii) An individual's expressed wishes about the future provision of health services to him or her; or
 - (iii) A health service provided, or to be provided, to an individual;

that is also personal information; or
- (b) Other personal information collected to provide, or in providing, a health service; or
- (c) Other personal information about an individual collected in connection with the donation, or intended donation, by the individual of his or her body parts, organs or body substances; or
- (d) Genetic information about an individual in a form that is, or could be, predictive of the health of the individual or a genetic relative of the individual.

Collection of Personal Information

The Personal Information we may collect and hold varies and is dependent on the product requested or the service to be provided or the other circumstances in which we deal with you. Details can include but are not limited to:

- name;
- date of birth;
- gender;
- current and previous address (including postal address);
- contact details including telephone numbers;
- email address;
- occupation;
- bank account details;
- taxation, banking and superannuation information in relation to employees;
- if you apply for employment with us, details regarding your employer, employment history, education qualifications and similar information;
- credit references;
- drivers licence details;
- geographical location;
- passport and visa details;
- images of you from surveillance camera footage;
- credit information, including information regarding insolvency related court proceedings relating to you, credit scores, credit evaluations and other information related to your credit-worthiness;

- provided that we obtain, where relevant, any necessary consent, consumer and commercial credit reports, including reports obtained from credit reporting bodies and reports relating to credit payment and default information, including credit accounts held, and your repayment history, with other credit providers;
- information about any credit account that you hold with us, including how long that account has been held, credit limits and payment and default information; and
- consumption habits and preference information.

The above information is collected and recorded about individuals who interact with us such as:

- our customers, potential customers and their representatives;
- our suppliers and their representatives;
- contractors and their representatives providing goods and services to us;
- our employees past and present;
- applicants for employment with us; and
- any other person who comes into contact with Safety Barriers WA.

In most cases, if we do not collect Personal Information from you, then we may be unable to undertake certain activities, such as providing you with the requested information, goods and/or services, functions, appropriate insurance, etc.

We will only collect sensitive information in circumstances where:

- It is reasonably necessary for one or more of the goods or services we provide or functions we carry out; and
- You consent to the collection of the information; or
- We are required or authorised by law to collect the sensitive information.

We will, if it is reasonable or practicable to do so, collect your personal information directly from you. This may happen when you fill out a form or when you give us personal information in person, or via telephone, email, correspondence or our website.

Sometimes we will collect personal information from a third party or a publicly available source. For example, we may need to collect personal information from a trade referee or a former employer.

If we receive personal information that we did not solicit, we will determine as soon as reasonably practicable whether we could have lawfully collected that information as part of our functions or activities. If we are not satisfied that we could have lawfully collected the information, then we will (if it is lawful and reasonable) destroy the information or ensure that it is de-identified.

You may choose to deal with us anonymously or under a pseudonym where lawful and practical. Where anonymity or use of a pseudonym will render us unable to provide the relevant goods or services or do business, we may request that you identify yourself.

For example, whenever documents are to be submitted to government agencies or financial institutions, it is essential that we record your name accurately.

The Privacy Act does not apply to employee records where used in relation to acts or practices directly related to a current or former employment relationship. An employee record is a record of Personal Information related to a current or former employment relationship. Please contact the Privacy Officer for more details.

Use and Disclosure of Personal Information

Personal information collected by Safety Barriers WA will ordinarily be used for the following purposes:

- Providing you with the goods or services requested.
- Warranty claims.
- Product recall notifications.
- Client and business relationship management.
- Marketing of products and services to you.

In order to achieve the purposes described above, we may disclose your personal information to the persons/organisations described below:

- Persons or organisations involved in providing your product or service, or components of your product or service, including independent contractors engaged by us.
- Government agencies or other persons/organisations involved in product safety recalls.
- Tradespeople engaged by us to repair or maintain a product.
- Our insurers.
- Organisations involved in maintaining, reviewing and developing our business systems, procedures and infrastructure including maintaining or upgrading our computer systems.
- Persons or organisations involved in purchasing part or all of our business.
- Organisations involved in the payments systems including financial institutions, merchants and payment organisations.

We will only use and disclose personal information for the primary purpose for which it was initially collected, or for purposes which are directly related to one of our functions or activities.

We will not disclose your personal information to government agencies, private sector organisations or any third parties unless one of the following applies:

- You have consented.
- You would reasonably expect, or you have been told, that information of that kind is usually passed to those individuals, bodies or agencies.
- It is otherwise required or authorised by law.
- It is reasonably necessary for enforcement related activities conducted by, or on behalf of, an enforcement body (e.g. police, ASIC, Immigration Department).

Personal information provided to Safety Barriers WA may be shared with its related companies. We will take all reasonable and practical measures to keep such information strictly confidential.

In the course of providing goods or services to you, it may be necessary for us to enter your personal information into warranty software and websites. Depending on the terms of use of such software and websites, a third party may acquire rights to use or disclose information entered into the relevant software or websites.

The collection and use of personal information by third parties may be subject to separate privacy policies or the laws of other jurisdictions.

Safety Barriers WA will not transfer your personal information overseas.

Like many other businesses in Australia, Safety Barriers WA may rely on third party suppliers or contractors to provide specialised services such as web hosting, cloud computing technology and data storage services. If personal information is provided to these suppliers and contractors in order to enable them to perform the agreed tasks, we will make every effort to ensure that the supplier or contractor handles the personal information in accordance with the Act and the Australian Privacy Principles. We will also require all suppliers and contractors to provide privacy undertakings and enter into confidentiality agreements.

There may be limited circumstances in which it is necessary for us to collect a government related identifier such as your tax file number, ABN or ACN. We will not use or disclose your government related identifiers unless we are required or authorized to do so by law or by a court or tribunal order, or in order to fulfil our obligations to a State or Territory authority.

Marketing our products and services

You consent to Safety Barriers WA using your Personal Information (other than sensitive information) for sending you information, including promotional material, about us or our products and services, as well as the products and services of our related entities and third parties, now and in the future. You also consent to us sending you such information by means of mail, email, SMS and MMS messages. You can opt out of receiving direct marketing communications by details provided in the direct marketing communication or you can contact at any time if you no longer wish us to market our products and services to you (see the Contacting Us section for more information).

Accuracy of Personal Information

Safety Barriers WA will take reasonable steps to ensure that all personal information it collects, uses or discloses is accurate, complete and up to date.

If you believe your personal information is not accurate, complete or up to date, please contact us (see the Contacting Us section for more information).

Security

Your personal information may be stored in hard copy documents or electronically. Safety Barriers WA is committed to keeping your personal information secure and safe. Some of the ways we do this are:

- Requiring employees and contractors to enter into confidentiality agreements.
- Secure hard copy document storage (i.e. storing hard copy documents in locked filing cabinets).
- Security measures for access to our computer systems.
- Providing a discreet environment for confidential discussions.
- Access control for our buildings.

- Security measures for our websites (see the Your Privacy on the Internet section for more information).

We will review and update our security measures from time to time.

In addition, we will review the personal information and sensitive information held by us from time to time, ensuring that information which is no longer needed for a purpose for which it was initially collected is destroyed or de-identified.

Your Privacy on the Internet

Safety Barriers WA takes care to ensure that the information you provide to us via our website is protected. For example, our website has electronic security systems in place, including the use of firewalls and data encryption.

You may be able to access external websites by clicking on links we have provided on our website. Those other websites are not subject to our privacy standards, policies and procedures. You will need to contact or review those websites directly to ascertain their privacy standards, policies and procedures.

Access to Personal Information

You may request access to personal information that Safety Barriers WA holds about you (see the Contacting Us section for more information).

We will acknowledge your request within 5 business days of the request being made. Access will usually be granted within 10 business days of our acknowledgment or, if the request involves complex considerations or voluminous photocopying or scanning, within 15 business days. We will let you know which timeframe applies to your request and if any delays are anticipated.

You will need to verify your identity before access to your personal information is granted.

While we cannot and do not charge an “application fee” for you applying to access your personal information, we may charge a fee for actually giving you access to your personal information in your preferred format (where reasonable and possible), which will cover our costs involved in locating and collating information as well as reproduction costs.

Once your request has been processed by Safety Barriers WA, you may be forwarded the information by mail or email or you may personally inspect it at the location where the information is held or another appropriate place. Whenever possible, we will endeavour to make the information available to you in the manner requested by you unless it is unreasonable for us to do so (e.g. if you have asked for the information to be emailed to you, we will endeavour to email the information to you. If the file size would be too large, we may send you the information by hard copy instead of email).

If you are aware that we hold personal information about you that is no longer accurate, complete or up to date, please contact us (see the Contacting Us section for more information).

If you request access to your personal information, or if you request that we correct your personal information, we will allow access or make the correction unless we consider that there is a sound reason to withhold the information, or not make the correction.

Under the Act, we may refuse to grant access to personal information if:

- We believe that granting access would pose a serious threat to the life, health or safety of any individual, or to public health or public safety.
- Granting access would have an unreasonable impact upon the privacy of other individuals.
- Denial of access is required or authorised by law or by a Court or Tribunal order.
- Giving access would be unlawful.
- The request for access is frivolous or vexatious.
- Legal proceedings are underway or anticipated and the information would not be accessible by way of the discovery process in those proceedings.
- Giving access would reveal our intentions in relation to negotiations between us and you in such a way as to prejudice those negotiations.
- Giving access is likely to prejudice enforcement related activities conducted by, or on behalf of, an enforcement body.
- Giving access is likely to prejudice action being taken or to be taken with respect to suspected unlawful activity or serious misconduct relating to our functions or activities.
- Giving access would reveal information in connection with a commercially sensitive decision-making process.

If we do not agree to make a correction to your personal information, you may provide a statement about the requested corrections, and we will ensure that the statement is apparent to any users of the relevant personal information.

If we do not agree to provide access to your personal information or to correct your personal information, we will provide written reasons for the refusal and the mechanisms available to complain about the refusal (see the Complaints section for more information).
